During Elba City Council meeting

Assistant city clerk says archeological digs on 2015 flood buyout properties completed

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba City Council met Monday evening, May 13, with Mayor Pro Tem Jane Brunson leading the session in the absence of Mayor Mickey Murdock.

During her report to council members, assistant city clerk Pat Boothe noted the archeological digs that had been underway on potential flood buyout properties, as required by the FEMA process, were finished. She said the contractors handling the digs found three spots where collected data was sent off to be studied further. These spots included two on Smith Avenue and one on the Samson Highway, according to Boothe.

With these digs now completed, Boothe said hopefully the FEMA buyout process from the 2015 December flood would begin to move forward again and bring some relief to citizens impacted by it.

Boothe said a project at the Elba airport adding six new hangers to the airport facility is nearing completion. She said there already is a waiting list on use of the new hangers.

The assistant city clerk also noted the Elba Splash Pad is set to open for the season on Saturday, May 25th. She said recreation director Greg Hanchey is working hard on getting things ready for this much-anticipated opening of the aquatic recreation facility, which is located at Tiger Town Park in downtown Elba.

Elba Police Chief Leslie Hussey reported a "fairly uneventful couple of weeks" for his department. He said the main thing going on with the police department lately has been preparation and work on the dispatch center remodel.

The main work and transfer is scheduled for next week, according to the police chief.

He said services would not be affected during that time as a plan will be put in motion to keep the center up and running while the new workspace is being remodeled.

"The remodel should not affect dispatch in any way," he said. "It will just be aggravating and crowded for our workers for a few days as they are moved into a smaller room while work is ongoing in the dispatch center."

Hussey said he would be happy when this work is completed and done, but he is definitely looking forward to the improvements it will bring the dispatch center to better assist the community and law officials.

Council members affirmed a proclamation Monday evening that had been signed by Mayor Murdock.

According to assistant city clerk Pat Boothe, the Elba Splash Pad is set to open Saturday, May 25th.

Coffee County BOE meets May 9th and approves personnel matters

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Coffee County Board of Education members gathered Thursday, May 9, for a called meeting of the board, during which several personnel matters were presented by superintendent Kevin Killingsworth for approval by the board.

The board accepted and approved three teacher resignations. These included: Teresa Deal, family and consumer science teacher at New Brockton High School; Linda Clarkson, part-time elementary teacher at Kingston School providing intervention services; and Lenore Tanner, business education teacher at New Brockton High School.

Two teacher employments were approved, including: Brooke Rathburn, elementary teacher at Kingston School; and Matt Miller, math teacher at New Brockton High School.

Zion Chapel High School science teacher Angela

Davis was approved by the board for a voluntary transfer from her teacher position to high school guidance counselor at Zion Chapel.

Two support personnel matters also were approved by the board during last week's called meeting. These included, a resignation from Rebecca Cooper as a Pre-K aide at Zion Chapel School; and the voluntary transfer of Shelly Nelson from bookkeeper at Zion Chapel to Pre-K aide at Zion Chapel.

Also during the meeting, superintendent Killingsworth noted it was Nurses Appreciation Week, and he took a moment to thank the school system's nurses for a job well done.

"We have some great nurses in our system," he said. "They do a great job and handle everything that comes before them with great pride and dedication."

The meeting adjourned following Killingsworth's comments.

Baccalaureate set for Sunday in Elba

JOHNSON BRINGS NEW BUSINESS TO DOWNTOWN ELBA...The official opening of LillieAnne's in downtown Elba was deemed a huge success last Friday, May 10, and the celebration began with a ribbon cutting ceremony hosted by the Elba Chamber of Commerce. LillieAnne's is owned and operated by Lisa Johnson, and the retail boutique is located at 211 Claxton Avenue in downtown Elba. It is part of a block of buildings purchased several years ago by Tim and Lisa Johnson that were in need of repair and demolition. That block of buildings now houses not only LillieAnne's, but also H&R Block, Johnson Realty, and the Coffee County Red Cross offices. Johnson said LillieAnne's gets its name from her grandmother-in-law "Miss Lillie" Johnson and her mother-in-law Annette (Anne) Johnson. Several friends and family members attended last Friday's ribbon cutting ceremony to show support for Johnson in opening LillieAnne's. Many of them are shown above standing behind Lisa and Tim Johnson with Elba Mayor Mickey Murdock (center) as he "cuts the ribbon" officially welcoming LillieAnne's to business. Also in attendance and helping to hold the ribbon were Elba's queens.

Sheriff announces Deputy Jace Holley slated to receive Medal of Honor

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Coffee County Commission approved several motions Monday morning, May 13, to make way for a new industrial park along Highway 84 in New Brockton, pending successful completion a few due diligence matters involving the acquisition of land.

Upon recommendation of county administrator Rod Morgan, commissioners approved a motion Monday for a resolution to execute a contract and purchase property of approximately 260 acres in New Brockton to establish an industrial park on Highway 84. This motion passed by unanimous vote of the commissioners.

Next, commissioners approved a motion to allow for improved access to the 'industrial park' property via a land swap with the landowner to gain access to the park on County Road 516. The final motion passed revolving around this pending industrial park was to approve a resolution for a funding agreement with Covington Electric Cooperative for the property.

No further details were provided regarding this proposed industrial park property, and Morgan stressed the motions were pending successful completion of the due diligence matters.

Sheriff Dave Sutton addressed commissioners during Monday's meeting, and he said it was his great honor to announce that Deputy Jace Holley would be receiving a Medal of Honor on Thursday, May 15, in Montgomery from Governor Kay Ivey. He said this was in commendation of heroic actions Deputy Holley performed last June in saving three lives by pulling the victims from a burning vehicle of a motor vehicle accident in Coffee County.

Sutton said he and other officials from the Sheriff's Office would be in Montgomery on Thursday to be with Deputy Holley and his family when he is presented the Medal of Honor by the governor.

Also while addressing commissioners, Sheriff Sutton said his department would be increasing its patrol of county bridges, especially those with popular swimming holes, now that school is getting out and the summer months were nearing. He added that ABC [Alcoholic Beverage Control] officers would be assisting the county in patrolling these areas this summer.

"It is impossible to defeat an ignorant man in argument." – William G. McAdoo Driving carefully is advice that is old as dirt but it bears repeating, especially around road construction sites. That goes double for the 4-lane work on the 203 Bypass around Elba! With more and more changes being made as construction crews try to keep traffic flowing and do their work all at the same time, it gets tricky to say the least. It is not unusual for our phone to ring or someone stop in the office to relate an incident of a 'near-miss' accident situation as they navigate the work sites on 203. It is worse for a couple of days after any new rerouting of traffic. The bottom line for each of us is to be extra alert with our driving and extra watchful of other drivers who might not be as aware of the dangers as we think we are.

Several weeks ago, we would have bet you a cup of coffee that the lottery issue would pass the Alabama legislature this year. Now we are not so sure. It squeaked by the first vote with zero votes to spare. Now scrapping over how the profits will be divided is just one of the obstacles cropping up to effectively kill the idea before it even gets out of the starting gate.

We recall the lottery debate when Florida successfully joined the 'pie in the sky' race to make everybody rich. They promised a bunch of money to the schools "on top of the regular budgets" once the lottery got going. We liked that idea and wrote an editorial in our Florida newspaper supporting the measure. Well it passed but as inflation of education costs continued, that ten percent above the regular budget was absorbed into supporting the regular budget. Today if there was a "do over" we would not encourage our readers to support it on any promise of how the money is divided.

If the reports are true of the Ozark lady who falsified the results of drug-screen tests, we are in shock. We ask "Why?" Then our thoughts ramble to those impacted by the falsified test results. If it jailed someone for drug use and/or parole violation, what will happen with their cases? Worse to us is the potential that families lost custody of their children over someone's lies! How in the world can this all be rectified if/when the courts find her guilty???? If it were my children, today would not be too soon to get a court ruling on custody of my children. Every day this goes unsettled is an injustice to an untold number of parents, other adults and the innocent little children.

China will retaliate against the U. S. for the recent tariff increases. There is probably no one who doubts that idea. The immediate thoughts are they will increase tariffs tit-for-tat. We have just this morning read of some particular items the Chinese might target and that is farmers and our farm exports. That brings up the massive soy bean exports to China. Already the bean growers are experiencing a drop in the price of soy beans. Any additional 'payback' could be buying their soy beans and other grains from other countries. Being an American farmer is a challenge under any conditions, but to get in the middle of a political battle is a no win for agriculture. The question in the opinion piece we read today was, "How will Donald Trump react to that very devastating move?"

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

By: Daniel Sutter

President Trump is creating a Presidential Committee on Climate Security to scrutinize climate science. Princeton University physicist William Happer has been identified as a possible committee chair. Environmental groups consider Mr. Trump's proposal heretical and label skeptics as climate change deniers. Nonetheless, I think that climate science, the environment, and our democracy will all benefit from this committee.

Why should we debate a settled question? Isn't there "97 percent consensus" among scientists on climate change, and haven't the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) and National Climate Assessment (NCA) already determined that we face a crisis?

Climate consensus studies rely on reviews of published papers or surveys of scientists. The relevant scientific question is not whether humanity's use of fossil fuels raises global temperatures, but rather the magnitude of this impact. The consensus is illusory as agreement on the first question is billed as consensus on the second question.

The IPCC produces two documents, literature reviews conducted by scientists, and a "Summary for Policymakers" dictated by politicians. The media frequently reports only the "Summary," which is really an advocacy document for climate alarmism. Surveys of IPCC scientists reveal far less confidence in the conclusions the Summary offers.

The 2018 NCA report received much media coverage for its dire predictions, but commentators noted numerous flaws. Roger Pielke, Jr., concluded that the NCA's authors "have given a big fat gift to anyone who wants to dismiss climate science and policy."

A significant body of scientific evidence disputes claims of an impending climate catastrophe. Interested readers can check out the two editions of The Nongovernmental Panel on Climate Change's Climate Change Reconsidered. Critically assessing the conflicting evidence is a task for the Presidential committee.

What constitutes an existential threat? The NCA projects that climate change might lower GDP by 10 percent, but that's not the dire future depicted in Kevin Costner's movie Waterworld. We can respond to a climate threat in multiple ways: mitigation, or reducing human-caused emissions of greenhouse gases; adaptation, or adjusting how we live to a warmer climate; and climate engineering, or reducing atmospheric carbon dioxide while still using fossil fuels.

How to address climate change is an economic question. Exactly which questions does the "settled" climate science settle?

If climate change is an existential threat and we address it solely through mitigation, all nations will likely need to stop using fossil fuels within a few decades. This will require a significant expansion of government control over the economy. The impacts on our lives of ending the use of fossil fuels will be enormous.

In political discourse, is more government control over the economy a means of preventing cataclysmic climate change, or an end in itself? Proponents of markets and economic freedom will understandably demand better evidence to conclude that we face an existential threat than liberals.

Debating climate science today may also help protect the environment. Without widespread acceptance that we must bear the enormous costs of ending the use of fossil fuels, the required policies will prove politically unsustainable. President Obama did not submit the Paris Climate accord for Senate ratification and did not invite an open debate. This allowed President Trump to withdraw via executive order. Did avoiding debate help stem climate change in the long run?

Liberal democracy is based firmly on the belief that governments serve the interests of citizens. Americans can disagree on taxes, government spending, and regulation and maintain a liberal democracy in America as long as we accept the legitimacy of each other's beliefs. Accepting the right to disagree means using words, ideas, and arguments to advance our favored positions and accept compromises when necessary.

The use of the term "climate change denier" is part of a trend which threatens liberal democracy. The term equates skepticism about hypothesized climate impacts decades in the future with denial of the Holocaust. This declares disagreement over climate policy illegitimate. We will not be able to preserve democracy if many Americans are not allowed to advocate for their favored policies through the political process.

After many, many discussions on a new personnel handbook for city employees, council members officially approved the new handbook, a working document, during Monday evening’s meeting. The council members also approved a social media policy for employees.

“I want to express my appreciation to all at city hall who have worked on this [personnel handbook] a lot,” council member Brunson said.

She said a lot of time and effort went in to getting this ready for council members to review, makes changes, and prepare it for approval, and she wanted the city hall employees to know that their hard work did not go unnoticed.

Council members said city employees would receive a copy of the new handbook for review, and employees would be asked to sign an agreement to follow the policies of the handbook after review.

Monday evening’s council meeting also included the approval of bills for the month of April, which totaled $197,364.50.

“We will be watching the swimming holes to keep this issue in check,” Sutton said.

County engineer Marty Lentz had only a couple of items to bring before commissioners during Monday’s meeting. He asked for and received approval to offer two vehicles no longer being used for sale on GovDeals.com. The two surplus vehicles approved for sale were a 2013 Chevrolet 1500 truck with a utility body and a 2002 Chevrolet S10

Blazer.

The only other matter Lentz discussed with commissioners was a need to send out bids on some pipe and cement materials. Commissioners unanimously approved his request.

County extension coordinator Gavin Mauldin told commissioners that two recent workshops presented by the extension office had been well attended. He said a regional pecan workshop had 26 people in attendance while a chainsaw workshop had over 50 people in attendance on day one of that workshop.

The Coffee County Commission will not meet for its second regular meeting for the month of May due to the Memorial Day holiday on Monday, May 27; therefore, the next meeting for the commission will be Monday, June 10, at 9 a.m.

Results are negative for Alabama’s first reported presumptive measles patient

The Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) received the final testing for Alabama’s first presumptive measles report from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

The results were for an infant residing in St. Clair County originally reported to the ADPH on May 2, 2019. The results obtained on May 2 from a commercial laboratory were positive; however, the results received from the CDC were negative.

ADPH will continue to investigate all reports received through the formal process for notifiable disease. Measles is a notifiable disease with a reporting requirement of within 24 hours. The result of additional testing performed by the CDC was reported to the ADPH this afternoon and is being shared.

Out of an abundance of caution, with evidence of presumptive disease, a positive initial measles test was reported after determining that this was in the best interest of the public while awaiting additional testing. The important message remains that MMR vaccine, for those without immunity to measles, is the most effective measure a person can take.

As of May 8, 2019, a total of 252 reports have been investigated for measles in 2019. There are 82 open investigations and 170 closed investigations.

CDC and ADPH strongly encourage all residents to ensure they are up to date on all vaccines, especially measles vaccine, because measles is circulating in 23 states.

Vaccine recommendations for adult vaccine as follows:

- One dose of MMR (measles, mumps, rubella) for those born after 1957.

- Certain adults are considered at high risk and need two doses of MMR, each dose separated by at least 28 days, unless they have other presumptive evidence of measles immunity, as listed above.

- Students at post-high school educational institutions

- Healthcare personnel

- International travelers

At this time, the ADPH continues to recommend that infants and children be vaccinated at 12 months and 4 years of age.

From the time a person is exposed to measles, it can take 7-21 days for signs and symptoms to occur, with an average of 10-14 days. People are contagious from four days before the rash develops until four days.

Thomas Clark attends Children of the Confederacy's Confederate Memorial Day event held in Marbury, Ala.

On April 27, Thomas Clark, president of Rucker's Belles and Beaux 968, attended the Alabama Division Children of the Confederacy's ("CofC") Confederate Memorial Day event at Confederate Memorial Park in Marbury, Ala.

The event was held in the park Chapel, which was at one time the Marbury Methodist Church. Thomas was accompanied to the event by chapter director Pat Richter and Donna Clark, both members of the Gen. Edmond Winchester Rucker 2534 Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy ("UDC").

Colors were posted by the Cradle of the Confederacy Camp 692 Sons of Confederate Veterans of Montgomery, Ala. Invocation was given by Chaplain Burgandy Huntzinger, and the salute to the Christian flag was led by President Hailiegh Himes followed by the singing of How Firm a Foundation by the assembly; the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America was led by Master William Appleton followed by the singing of the National Anthem; the salute to the Alabama flag was led by Miss Bailey Huntzinger followed by the singing of the state song, Alabama; the salute to the Confederate flag was led by Master Thomas

Clark followed by the singing of Dixie's Land.

President Himes gave the welcome to all the guests and introduced Alabama Division CofC Director Judy Buchanan who introduced the Alabama Division UDC officers and other special guests. Calvin Chappelle, assistant director of Confederate Memorial Park, welcomed attendees to the park.

A short break was taken for the Memorial Service ceremony, which was held at Cemetery Number Two within the park. The service was led by living history reenactors as a part of their living history weekend at the park.

After returning to the chapel, memorials were given to Confederate Veterans, Veterans of all Wars, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and Children of the Confederacy.

As members came into the chapel, a bake sale was held to raise money for the General CofC Scholarship Fund. Also, the children were asked to vote on a design for the Alabama Division CofC Pin. The winning design must be approved by the General organization and will then be struck for sale to members.

After announcements and the benediction, attendees joined hands and sang Blest Be the Tie That Binds. After the retiring of the colors and the recessional, a snack lunch was enjoyed by all.

Joshua Simmons inducted into Phi Kappa Phi honor society through Troy University

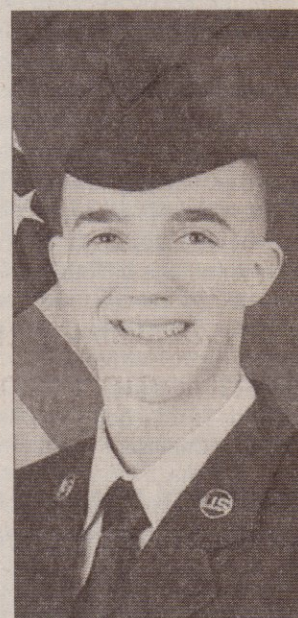

Joshua Simmons, of Elba, Ala., recently was initiated into The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, the nation's oldest and most selective all-discipline collegiate honor society.

Simmons was initiated at Troy University.

Simmons is among approximately 30,000 students, faculty, professional staff and alumni to be initiated into Phi Kappa Phi each year. Membership is by invitation only and requires nomination and approval by a chapter. Only the top 10 percent of seniors and 7.5 percent of juniors are eligible for membership. Graduate students in the top 10 percent of the number of candidates for graduate degrees may also qualify, as do faculty, professional staff and alumni who have achieved scholarly distinction.

Phi Kappa Phi was founded in 1897 under the leadership of undergraduate student Marcus L. Urann who had a desire to create a different kind of honor society: one that recognized excellence in all academic disciplines. Today, the Society has chapters on more than 300 campuses in the United States and the Philippines. Its mission is "To recognize and promote academic excellence in all fields of higher education and to engage the community of scholars in service to others."

"SEEDS"

Step one: obtain seeds
Not seedlings, not potted plants
Just seeds...a packet of annuals, even a box of 80% sawdust wildflowers
Read the instructions well enough
Find some dirt
(Last year's old dirt will do)
Wake it up with a little massage, a little flip over
Then plant your little miracles
Move their potted home to just the right place
Give them the gifts of sun, water and attention
And watch them grow...
Watch in awe at their mystery
Look! An expected surprise
Green springing up from dust
Soak the soil in continued anticipation
Put all your faith in the future of what is to come:
A RIOT OF COLOR!
But today we water, we thin, we hope...

SPORTS NEWS

Views From

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson was all excited Sunday afternoon when he gave his Mon a couple of very special ‘Mother’s Day’ gifts. My little man wasn’t really sure just what the gifts were, but he knew we had made sure he would have some gifts for his very special Mom.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers will wrap up spring football drills this week with a game over at New Brockton, and while Elba’s Coach Pate Harrison told me the outcome of the game means a lot more to the fans and players than it does the coaches, you have to believe that there will a sense of pride for everyone on the field to come out on top. The Tigers have had to share spring practice with a number of golfers in recent weeks, which resulted in an adjusted schedule, but the Tigers got in some hard work on some summer-like days and should be happy to pull on the pads, hit someone besides a teammate, and put an end to the dreaded spring drills. I’m not sure just what we will see since Coach Harrison told me they have only four of five plays on the entire play chart, but I know the Elba players well enough to know they will play hard and will play to win every play. It should be a fun night for the fans of both schools.

 The South Region softball tournament was held last week at Gulf Shores with both Brantley and Kinston advancing to this week’s state tournament. Brantley made it look easy as the Lady Bulldogs disposed of all challengers by big scores, while Kinston had to battle through a final game to make the final eight at Montgomery. Many folks have been a little surprised that Brantley lost 10 games this season since it has won five of the last ix state titles in the 1A ranks, but the truth is that the #10 has been a lucky number for the Lady Bulldogs as in three of the last four state title runs they had 10 losses on their side of the ledger. The Kinston fans are excited, and should be, as their Lady Bulldogs make a return trip to state under Andy Sanders, a popular pitching coach and long time Lady Bulldog fan. The Kinston girls have a young squad, but know how to play the game and will be in the battle for a state title trophy. The Lady Gamecocks from New Brockton fell one win shy of making it to the state tournament, but showed everyone at Gulf Shores that they are a team to watch for years to come and played hard every inning of every game as they laid the foundation for future teams.

 The Brantley Bulldogs also advanced to the finals in baseball as the Bulldogs got past Sweet Water in three games to head to Montgomery. The Bulldogs have won at least 20 games four years in a row, and the 29 wins this season have them convinced that a state title will be heading back to Crenshaw County very soon.

 In closing.... I urge everyone that supports the schools in the area to head out this week and support their teams, no matter of it is New Brockton or up in Montgomery. The student-athletes have worked hard for months to reach this point in their careers and need to hear your support. Good Luck to all the teams!

New Brockton falls one win short of state tourney berth

The New Brockton Lady Gamecocks competed at the South Region softball tournament last week at Gulf Shores and claimed two wins in four games to fall one win short of advancing to this week’s state tournament.

The Lady Gamecocks opened tourney play against Cottonwood and scored 10 runs in the game’s first five innings to erase an early 2-0 deficit in a lopsided 14-5 win. Kinsley Owens had 3 hits and knocked in 4 runs to lead New Brockton, while Mary Beth Smith added 2 hits and 3 rbi’s, and Bailey Blackmon added 2 hits and was the winning pitcher as she tossed a compete game and recorded nine strikeouts.

The Lady Gamecocks saw a 8-5 lead midway through the game vanish and needed to push across the winning run in the bottom of the eighth inning to ease past Elberta 9-8. Kiersten Sunday had 1 hit and 2 rbi’s, including the game winner, to lead New Brockton at the plate, while Anna Jones added 1 hit and 2 rbi’s and Madison Meeks added 1 hit and 1 rbi. Bailey Blackmon pitched all eight innings and recorded 4 strikeouts to get the win inside the circle.

The Lady Gamecocks battled top-ranked and defending state champion G.W. Long in the winner’s bracket finals and never got anything going at the plate in a 10-0 loss, as two Long pitchers combined to strike out 18 batters in six innings.

The Lady Gamecocks rallied from an early 5-1 deficit to pull even at 7-7 in the seventh inning, but saw their state tourney hopes dashed in the eighth as Luverne scored with two outs in the bottom of the inning to claim an 8-7 win. Kennedy Hussey had 2 hits to lead New Brockton and Mary Beth Smith added 2 rbi’s.

For spring football clash

Elba Tigers head to New Brockton

The Elba Tigers will wrap up spring football practice Friday night when they travel to New Brockton to tangle with the New Brockton Gamecocks, in the renewal of a cross-county rivalry.

The game will begin at 7:00 PM, and will include two quarters of action between the starters of the two teams, one quarter of action between the non-starters ad one quarter of action between the junior high teams.

“We won’t have any live kickoffs or punts,” said Elba Tiger head coach Pate Harrison, “but we will attempt extra points just to let the kickers get in some game type experience. Our players are a little tired after two weeks of practice in hot weather and I’m sure they are looking forward to the end of spring drills, but we expect them to get after it Friday night and play with enthusiasm and pride. Anytime the lights come on the players get a little excited, and we expect that in the game Friday night.”

“With the limits put on spring drills we aren’t really able to take the time to put in a game plan,” added Coach Harrison. “On offense we will be very vanilla and probably run maybe three or four running plays and one or two pass plays. We plan on working two quarterbacks in the first half on an equal basis and will try to give them the same plays to run to see which one can lead the team. Over on defense we will do what we do and not do anything just because we are playing New Brockton. We know they scored a lot of points last season and have a lot of athletes, but we didn’t have the time to really look at what they do, and will just line up and hopefully get after them.”

“This game is big for the fans and the players since the two schools are so close to each other and used to be a rivalry,” sated Coach Harrison, “but from a coaching standpoint it is a chance to put the players in a game environment on tape and then be able to watch the tape and see just who is ready to play and what we need to do to get better as a team. It is a valuable tool for us as coaches and it is fun for the players and the students at the schools, but all in all it is just the final practice of the spring.”

“The real work comes in

Brantley rolls to 1A Region crown with three easy wins

The Brantley Lady Bulldogs continued their dominance over 1A opponents last week as they rolled to three straight lopsided wins to claim the top seed at the South Region softball tournament, at Gulf Shores.

The Lady Bulldogs opened tourney action against Red Level and broke loose after a slow start to claim a 17-0 win. Olivia Jones had 3 hits and 7 rbi’s to lead Brantley at the plate, while Anna Kimbro added 2 hits and Emory Bush and Lindsey Wells both collected 3 rbi’s. Lauren Hudson was the winning pitcher as she tossed a 3-hitter with six strikeouts.

The Lady Bulldogs scored four runs in the bottom of the first inning to take control early and rolled to an 11-2 second round win over Millry. Olivia Jones

Brantley jumped ahead 3-0 in the bottom of the first inning and never lost command as they claimed the series with a 7-2 win. The Lady Bulldogs met Isabella in the loser’s bracket finals and scored 4 runs in the top of the first inning to take command and added 7 runs in the sixth to pull away as they posted an impressive 13-2 win.
